

Why OmegaQuant?

OmegaQuant provides state-of-the-art testing for essential fatty acids and Vitamin D, helping to gain valuable insights into your clients' health status.

With Omega-3, DHA, and Vitamin D playing such crucial roles in overall wellness—impacting everything from brain health to immune function — this new tool will enable you to deliver measurable results that support your clients' long-term well-being.

Key Benefits for Your Practice:

- Deeper Insights: Gain access to clear data that helps you track and improve your clients' omega and vitamin levels.
- Personalized Care: Use the test results to fine-tune your treatment protocols, providing a tailored approach to each client's unique needs.
- Simple and Convenient: OmegaQuant's at-home testing kits are easy for clients to use, and results are delivered quickly.

We are confident that this partnership will offer significant value, not only to your coaching practice but also to your clients' health and success.
